SANDHYA D KARNIK

It was March 2014, I had just returned from US visit. I felt lump in my right breast during bath. I immediately decided to visit my doctor friend. She immediately referred me to Dr. Ms Nalawade, who did my mammogram and biopsy. I was very much upset with findings. All our family friends recommended Dr. Sanjay Dudhat, HOD Oncology, Nanavati Hospital. In the very first consultation with Dr. Dudhat sir, he dispelled my fear about word 'Cancer'. Within a month my surgery was planned. On the operation day Dr Dudhat sir made sure to relieve me, from trauma of surgery. It was an assurance, that I will lead normal life, post surgery. This helped me to restore my belief in life. After my breast surgery it was found that, I needed 17 cycles of Herclon drug along with six cycles of Chemotherapy, every 3 weeks. For this I had to use Port for intravenous drug therapy. My visits to Nanavati Hospital started after Port surgery. Dr Dudhat sir made sure that I remain cheerful, he even use to reserve, required room in the Hospital. His entry in the room and his talk with smiling face always changed the atmosphere in the room. It enhanced my confidence about treatment. For more than twelve months this treatment continued. Dr Dudhat sir gave me second inning in life. I always thank almighty for getting me treated in the hands of Dr Dudhat sir. Now for almost four years, every six months I visit Nanavati Hospital for follow up testing. Dr Dudhat sir checks my all test reports. He also encourages about pursuing my hobbies. When he speaks, I feel my brother is advising me. What I like most about Dr Dudhat sir is, his down to earth approach and relieving his patients of trauma and stress of word 'Cancer'. Dr Dudhat sir has given new confidence about life with his positive talk and his social activities related to patient welfare are really heart warming. Dr Dudhat sir is a role model not only for doctor fraternity but for all human beings.
